MANY PACK COURTROOM IN WELCOME TO JURIST

Two boyhood friends observed an event of a lifetime on Thursday when Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt welcomed Aylett Cotton of San Mateo as a fellow jurist at ceremonies before a large group in Department One of the Superior Court.

The two—who had been associated for five years as assistant prosecutors for the City of San Francisco—pledged themselves to a program of making the two courts one and asserted that "perfect equality" will exist between the two departments in the handling of all matters of litigation.

Judge Anthony Caminetti Jr., of Amador county, who has been sitting here, took part in the welcoming.

Mrs. Alice Borel Cotton, wife of the jurist and member of a socially prominent pioneer San Mateo county family, and their son, Aylett Borel Cotton, Stanford senior, proudly observed the ceremony.

PRAISES ASSOCIATE

Judge McNutt's welcome to Judge Cotton was that of a warm friendship extending from their early boyhood. He referred to the new jurist as one with a "diversified experience, excellent ability, good head and kind heart."

He expressed extreme satisfaction at having Judge Cotton selected as successor to the late Judge Franklin Swart, of whose regrettable death he spoke feelingly.

Judge McNutt told of the plan he and Judge Swart had worked out for an equitable distribution of the business of the two courts and the efforts made to maintain them equal in the eyes of all litigants.

He said the same program would be followed by himself and the new jurist.

COTTON PLEASED

Judge Cotton, who is completing 39 years at the bar, said in his opening remarks that it has been his lifetime hope to end that practice by a promotion to the bench.

"I will do everything in my power to deserve this high honor," the jurist declared.

Judge Cotton said he had the feeling of great satisfaction in attaining the bench, but that it made him sad to give up his associations with his council colleagues at San Mateo.

He cast his eyes about the courtroom and told of his long associations with Attorneys Charles N. Kirkbride, J. E. McCurdy, the late George Ross, W. H. Morrissey, Gilbert Ferrell and Joseph Bullock.

PLEDGE CO-OPERATION

On behalf of the bar association, James T. O'Keefe, president, welcomed Judge Cotton and expressed pleasure at the selection. He assured Judge Cotton that the bar gave him its "confidence, support and co-operation."

O'Keefe next called upon Colonel Kirkbride, who spoke of the bench being the "goal and glory" of every lawyer, and said the bar "knows that it will always receive fair dealings" from the new jurist.

Bullock declared that he believed San Mateo county possessed two able and conscientious judges in the naming of Cotton as an associate of Judge McNutt.

District Attorney Ferrell called Judge Cotton's selection one of "great pleasure" to himself and spoke of the jurist's qualifications as "maturity of years and broad understanding."

OTHERS SPEAK

McCurdy wished the new judge "a happy and successful" career on the bench and spoke from the standpoint of one responsible for Judge Cotton entering San Mateo politics in 1927 when he was swept into office.

Attorney Lee T. Ross welcomed the new jurist with the statement that "the bar, the people and the litigants are to be congratulated on securing a man of such ability, honesty and integrity."

John E. Casey, San Mateo's new mayor succeeding Judge Cotton, spoke of his sorrow in losing him as a council colleague. He declared Judge Cotton had been "one of the best mayors San Mateo ever had" and predicted that he would make of himself equally one of the best of judges.

Judge McNutt then committed Judge Cotton "to the destinies of his own courtroom across the hall."

In his own courtroom, Judge Cotton found many floral tributes and scores of telegrams, letters and personal calls of felicitation from friends and former associates.

WORK THEN BEGINS

The first official act of the new jurist was to sign a final decree of divorce for Harry Jennings, who had sued his wife, Marie, on the grounds of extreme cruelty.

The jurist's first trial was that of Jesse Mathis of the Veterans' Hospital at North Palo Alto, who was charged with manslaughter for the death of A. O. Eager, Southern Pacific trainman, killed at the Dumbarton cut-off in a train-automobile mishap.

Attorney Wayne Millington defended the first case before Judge Cotton in representing Mathis and Ferrell and his assistant, Louis Demattei, appeared for the state.

Judge Cotton will serve until the next general election, in accordance with state law. This will give the new jurist a two-year term.

Reward Spurs Murder Quiz

$100 Fund Is Posted By Chief Burke In Clue Hunt

Determined to continue the inquiry "with diligence and thoroughness," District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell said today that "if we think it desirable or necessary, we will call in a special investigator" in the effort to solve the mysterious slaying of Kathleen Robinson, 26, former Redwood City girl.

He indicated the investigator would be from the state bureau of identification, of which Clarence Morrill is chief.

This afternoon Sheriff James J. McGrath, Chief of Police Thomas Burke of San Mateo and Ferrell were to hold a conference on the subject. Sheriff McGrath has not as yet entered the case officially, although he attended the inquest into the death of the girl, and may aid in the search for her murderer, he said. He also conferred with Ferrell yesterday.

POST $100 REWARD

Meanwhile, Chief Burke offered a $100 reward for a clue leading to the solution of the murder, which has baffled authorities now for 10 days.

Much credence was given today by District Attorney Ferrell to the testimony of the Japanese girl, Masamo Tyoya, who told the coroner's jury she saw the body of the slain girl and a car drive by it about 9 p. m. a week ago Saturday night, the night the girl was slain.

He plans to question her further with the aid of an interpreter, he said today.

COUNTY HAS FUNDS

That the county has funds for hiring an investigator was confirmed today by Ferrell, who, at the same time, defended the work of Chief Burke and his men.

"If they had solved the case they would be praised as marvelous detectives," Ferrell said.

"While it is not exactly the duties of the district attorney to solve a crime, this office intends to see that the investigation continues until the murder is solved, if possible. We shall continue to work in cooperation with authorities."

Sheriff to Request More Funds Monday

Formal request that funds be appropriated for the employment of seven constables in San Maeo county instead of five will be made to the board of supervisors next Monday, Sheriff James J. McGrath said today.

The board originally allowed money for five because the charter specified that "at least one" should be named for each of the five justice courts. Sheriff McGrath, however, appointed seven constables. As a result, none was paid for last month's work, Controller Edward M. Stack holding that since there were funds for only five he couldn't pay any.

Work to Start On Postoffice Building Soon

Postmaster O'Connell Arranging Program To Mark Event

Ground will be broken within a few days for Redwood City's new postoffice building on Jefferson avenue, near Broadway, it was expected today, with the announcement from Washington that the bond of the K. E. Parker Company, San Francisco contracting firm which will handle the work, had been accepted in Washington.

C. F. Parker, who will have charge of the project, could not be reached today for a statement as to when the actual work will proceed.

His firm started construction of the new Santa Clara postoffice Monday.

Work, however, is believed ordered to proceed within 20 days after acceptance of the bond.

The postoffice building, for which $66,000 has been appropriated, will cost $40,000, and furnishings and other facilities will require the additional figure.

Postmaster Robert O'Connell is planning a program for the ground-breaking when it occurs.

Metropolitan's Business Shows Huge 1934 Gain

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in 1934 issued, revived and increased $3,287,100,370 paid-for life insurance, Frederick H. Ecker, president, reported yesterday at the opening session of the annual convention of the company's field managers.

The year's production showed an increase of $112,000,000 over that of 1933, Mr. Ecker said, and the company's total insurance in force showed a gain during the year of $686,820,657. On December 31 there was in force $19,489,805,475.

The company's 1934 business was done at an average rate of 19,900 policies for $10,884,438 issued, revived and increased on each business day.

Payments to policyholders made by the Metropolitan in 1934 ran well over half a billion dollars, and were made at an average rate of $4,351.73 a minute of each business day. The total amount paid was $525,689,582.80, of which $152,945,723.48 was paid for death benefits, while $372,743,859.32 was paid for matured endowments, annuity payments, dividends, disability benefits and cash surrender values. More than two-thirds of the total payments were made to living policyholders.

Dividends to policyholders payable in 1935 amounted to $97,265,486.

Walter Ulrich Opens New Barber Shop

Walter Ulrich announces the opening of his new up-to-date barber shop at 809 Winslow, across from the Southern Pacific station.

Mr. Ulrich formerly ran shops in Woodside and San Mateo although he has made his home in Redwood City for the past 10 years. Mr. Ulrich states that he plans to make children's hair cutting a specialty along with his regular clientele of men and women.

Apartments are so scarce in the larger German cities that thousands of young married couples are forced to live for years in boarding houses or with their parents.

Pendleton Explains Theory Of Townsend's '2 Per Cent'

Declaring that a 2 per cent sales tax would be ample, once the government starts the program, to take care of the $200-a-month pensions for all people over 60 years of age, the Rev. Norman W. Pendleton Monday in his talk at the McKinley school cited figures to show that business transactions in the United States approximate 1200 billions of dollars a year, instead of the 49 billions cited in the figures of the census of retail distribution. The Townsend old-age revolving pension plan would call for the payment of about 24 billions of dollars a year, Reverend Pendleton said.

The speaker quoted a letter from D. A. Skinner, secretary of the United States Chamber of Commerce, which said that 90 or 95 per cent of all business transactions are effected through means of check payments. Based on these percentages and on another passage from the letter which said that in 1927 Carl Snyder in his "Business Cycles and Business Measurements" reported, according to our computation the aggregate value of all checks drawn exceeds 700 billions of dollars a year . . . (meaning) a total volume of transactions in checks and money exceeding 800 billions," Reverend Pendleton figured that business transactions at present must approximate 1200 billions.

1 PER CENT POSSIBLE

With return of prosperity which it is held adoption of the plan would bring, this figure would probably double, Pendleton said, so that the tax could be cut to 1 per cent.

At all events, even if business were not better than it was in 1927 when 800 billions was the amount of transactions, only a 3 per cent tax would be needed, he maintained.

Declaring that the Townsend plan was a "national recovery program," Reverend Pendleton described it as the "most remarkable political phenomenon that has taken place in the history of the United States," having grown from its start 18 months ago to a movement now endorsed by 20 million people—"enough to elect a Townsend president and a Townsend congress next time if the present administration doesn't pass the measure."

Attempts to laugh off the program in Washington have failed, according to Reverend Pendleton. He urged his listeners to write their representatives urging debate and passage of the bill.

APPLIES THREE TESTS

In his speech, which was interrupted frequently by applause from the nearly 300 people in the audience, the local minister, who has spoken throughout Northern California in favor of the plan, declared it was sound because it stood the test that must be applied to any recovery measure: That it (1) seeks to open employment; (2) provides for expansion of purchasing power, and (3) attempts to make available the "abundance" that the United States can create and distribute.

All attempts to bring a return of prosperity by continuing "scarcity" of products will fail, he said. The Townsend plan is based on the theory of abundance, he maintained.

Employment will be increased by the adoption of the Townsend plan, not only because it will take several millions of people now over 60 out of industry, but because the spending of $24,000,000,000 a year by those people will cause industry to boom and make new jobs for some eight millions, according to Reverend Pendleton.

Volume and turnover are the two fundamentals of the plan, he said.

WILL REDUCE TAXES

That the plan will reduce taxes was a contention made by the speaker. At present the three big costs of government are crime, charity and war, he said. The Townsend plan will cut the first at least in half, eliminate the second and eventually eliminate or reduce materially the third, he maintained.

Only the payment of $200 a month or more can do this, any smaller payment such as that proposed by the Wagner-Lewis bill, being a burden because it would not stimulate recovery, he said.

Closing the meeting, which three other ministers were scheduled to address—two of them failed to appear and the third was suffering from a throat ailment which prohibited his speaking—with a tirade at newspapers which were not supporting the plan, Reverend Pendleton urged supports of the measure not to falter or turn back, but to "keep their hands to the plow."

State Approves El Camino Real Fund Accruals

Director Earl Lee Kelly of the Department of Public Works today approved an agreement with the City of Redwood City for the accumulation of funds accruing to the city from the state gas tax fund. The agreement was previously ratified by the city council on January 21.

Under the terms of the agreement, Director Kelly has agreed to conserve all funds accruing to the city from the allocation of state gas tax money, in accordance with legislation enacted in 1933 whereby one-quarter cent of the state gas tax fund is provided for the maintenance and improvement of state highway routes within incorporated cities.

The allocation is made on a population basis, and during the term of the agreement, which covers the biennial period ending June 30, 1935, it is estimated that approximately $11,113 will accrue.

The city, in accordance with the terms of the agreement, will furnish the money necessary to maintain that portion of El Camino Real from Woodside Road to Rogers street.

1,098 Voters Of Redwod City Taken From Roll

Of the total of 8715 names removed from the voters' register by workers in County Clerk E. B. Hinman's office, 1098 of them were from Redwood City proper, indicating that that number of registered voters failed to cast a ballot at either the primary or general election last year.

Totals removed from other rolls in this vicinity include: San Carlos, 183; San Carlos outside, 36; Atherton, 111; Dumbarton, 51; East Palo Alto, 36; Emerald Lake, 34; Fair Oaks, 31; La Honda, 32; Menlo Park, 255; Menlo Park outside, 53; North Fair Oaks, 61; North Palo Alto, 50; Portola, 30; Ravenswood, 96; U. S. Hospital, 110; University, 38; Woodside, 57; Half Moon Bay, 91; Pescadero, 43.

Burlingame lost the greatest number of registered voters when 1277 were removed from its list. San Mateo lost 1190.

In the opinion of County Clerk Hinman, most of those removed from the rolls have moved from the county.

Board Orders Loan and Gift Plea Be Filed

$167,000 Addition Under PWA Speeded By Supervisors

Placing of a bond issue before San Mateo county voters at the next county election in order to secure public approval of a $167,000 courthouse wing project was decided upon by the board of supervisors here Monday.

The money would come from Public Works Administration funds at Washington, and 30% would be a gift which need not be paid back. This would amount to $50,100, reducing the actual cost of the wing to the local taxpayers to $117,900.

Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma, moved that the matter be submitted to the public at the next election. Supervisor John Poole, Redwood City, seconded the motion, and the vote of the board was unanimous.

PURPOSE EXPLAINED

The purpose of the wing is to provide the necessary space in the courthouse to avoid the payment of rents from outside offices now amounting to about $4,000 yearly.

Another office was added to the rented list today when the board took an office in the Sequoia building for the San Mateo County Board of Education.

Capt. E. L. Norberg, Burlingame, said that two plans for financing the wing are possible. One would call for the county to accept the $50,000 in cash and apply it toward the wing and reducing the amount of the bond issue to be submitted to $117,000.

The other would call for the $50,000 to apply toward retirement of the bonds for the first four years, during which time the public would not be called upon to raise any taxes to pay off the loan.

If the cash is taken and the bond issue reduced, the board would be compelled to apply a small levy beginning the year the work is completed.

KELLOGG'S APPOINTEES STAND BEHIND DOCTOR EXECUTIVE REJECTED

Casey Slated As Successor

Ticket Mate of Cotton To Become Mayor Of San Mateo

SAN MATEO, Feb. 6.—John E. Casey, who was swept into office here at the same time Aylett R. Cotton was re-elected a councilman in 1931, after having previously been on the council five different times, is scheduled to become mayor of San Mateo succeeding Cotton, it was indicated today.

His election as mayor will occur Monday night when the council meets again, it is believed. Cotton resigned late yesterday following his appointment by Governor Merriam as superior judge succeeding the late Franklin Swart.

Casey, who was born in what was then called the Canada region, and which is now known as the Crystal Springs Lakes region in this county, has lived in this district all his life.

He has recently been acting as mayor, as Cotton has been absent from the city much of the time the past few weeks.

Casey, with Cotton and Councilman Cheney, were on the Citizens and Taxpayers' League ticket which was selected by the voters here at the election April 7, 1931.

WOODSIDE ROAD PROJECT

Work on the Woodside ditch elimination is now up to County Engineer Carl Scott and is engaging his attention, City Engineer Charles Dimmitt informed the council last night. The change in the engineering offices has delayed consideration of the proposal.

MANAGER LIKELY WILL IGNORE ACTION

Unanimously voting to recommend that Dr. Harper Peddicord be reappointed as director of county health and welfare, San Mateo county's new board of health and welfare on Tuesday "split" with the man who appointed it—County Executive Walter T. Kellogg.

Today Kellogg, who did not attend the meeting, received the notification from the board, but his comment on the matter was short.

"It makes no difference to me. It is only a recommendation," Kellogg said.

"Yes, I am disappointed," he replied to a question. "I thought they wouldn't do anything without consulting me."

The exeecutive is ill with a bad cold.

The board, with Louis Goecken of Burlingame as chairman, discussed other matters pertaining to the health and welfare of the county, Secretary Pansy Jewett Abbott said today, but did not arrive at any conclusions on them.

GANS CONSIDERED

They also considered the qualifications of Maj. Charles C. Gans, acting health director, who is reported establishing residence in the county so he may qualify for an early appointment to the post.

It was understood that the qualifications of Dr. J. Paul Sweeney, Millbrae, whom Kellogg had recommended for the post recently, were not before the board because of Kellogg's failure to attend the meeting.

After considering Drs. Peddicord and Gans, the health board voted unanimously to recommend that Kellogg appoint Dr. Peddicord.

Other members of the health board besides Goecken and Abbott are Dr. Norman Morrison of San Mateo, Dr. Harvey Whitney, Burlingame, and Randolph Longwell, Millbrae.

Although he has not been paid for his services, Major Gans, retired army man from Pennsylvania, has been acting as director of health since January 7 when he was appointed by Executive Kellogg.

The latter refused comment on the report that he would again attempt to name Dr. Gans to the job after March 9, when he will have been in the county 90 days—long enough to make him eligible for the position.

EX-ARMY MAN, TOO

Dr. Peddicord, himself a former army man, having served as assistant surgeon of the United States army from 1900 to 1905 and in the Philippines and Alaska, held the position of health director from October, when Dr. Harold Morrison was ousted, until January.

Whether Dr. Peddicord or Dr. Gans will be paid for the month of January has not as yet been determined.

Controller Edward M. Stack has refused to pay either, since Dr. Gans was ruled ineligible by District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell.

The local attorney's ruling was S. Webb.

Huge Grain Fields Attracted Early Wild Ducks to This Area

By CLAUDE FOX

When, at the request of a number of friends I was asked to again write on this subject, I must confess that I took up my pencil with some reluctance.

Some few years ago I wrote for the Times-Gazette a number of articles concerning wild ducks that were published from time to time and I thought that I had done my part in this regard.

In those articles I dwelt at some length describing the different hunting expeditions I had been on with the names of my companions, many of whom have now passed on. These stories have been read by the younger generation of duck hunters and many of the members of our new population and I did not care to go into a repetition of what I had already written.

Rather I thought to describe the conditions as I first found them on the peninsula, giving the reasons why, in my judgment, the wild birds of the marshland have decreased so rapidly and suggesting a remedy for present conditions so that the boys of today and posterity might enjoy the same grand sport which fell to my lot for the greater portion of my life, but the owners and publishers of this paper are desirous that I shall embody in this and succeeding articles which I shall write my actual experience on my many hunting trips, so in order to comply with their wishes I shall do so, endeavoring, however, to obviate the necessity of any repetition of former writings unless some reader makes a special request for one of those articles which took his fancy.

You will pardon me, however, to briefly state the conditions here as I found them way back in 1879 when dad and mother presented me with my first shotgun, in order that the readers hereof will fully realize how it was possible for myself and my companions to continually return home with large bags of the wild birds, for without this knowledge they would naturally think I was romancing and dropping into fiction, which I never do, these and succeeding articles being based on facts.

This whole peninsula from San Mateo southward and into the Santa Clara and Salinas valleys was one continuous grain field yielding large crops of wheat and barley and under the methods of harvesting at that time a considerable amount of the grain was left on the ground to sprout again with the first rains of winter and furnishing for the wild ducks and geese a grand baited territory extending for miles upon miles, and if you think for a single moment that the wild birds were at all backward in taking advantage of the feast spread out so generously before them you have another thought coming to you.

They fairly swarmed to this vicinity by countless thousands and as my old friend, Charley Gould, would say, by the millions.

The little green winged teal made this their headquarters in numbers impossible to estimate, followed closely by the thousands of widgeon and spoonbill, with a spattering of mallards and hundreds of wild geese of all varieties. No sprig appeared here until some years afterwards when the vast inland salt water lakes were constructed by various salt companies on the east side of the bay.

Just to give the readers an idea of the vast numbers of wild birds in this vicinity permit me to state that two market hunters, Louis Werder, father of the boys now living here, and Charles Peterson were shipping to the San Francisco markets fourteen hundred ducks per week.

Now that you have a general knowledge of conditions at that time I shall proceed in my next article and succeeding ones to tell of my own personal experiences in the pursuit of these birds, and eliminating descriptive stories heretofore written and published.

Santa Fe Line Opens San Jose Travel Agency

The Santa Fe Railway Company announces the opening of a ticket office and travel bureau at 115 South First street, San Jose.

The office will be fully equipped to handle all travel information, also the sale of railway, pullman and steamship tickets.

Mr. E. W. Zamzow, district passenger agent, states that Santa Fe trains are being fully equipped with air-ccoling systems from the pullman cars down to the chair cars. This comfort, coupled with the very low fares now available, he feels, will be the means of securing considerable travel from this territory.

COUNCIL LETS CONTRACT ON $18,884 PIPELINE HERE

First Step in Mixing Hetchy Supply Is Taken

The United States Pipe & Foundry Company, San Francisco, was Monday night awarded the contract for supplying pipe for the Vera avenue transmission line which will make it possible for the Redwood City Water Department to mix Hetch Hetchy and local well water and improve the present quality here.

A bid of $18,884.90 was submitted by the firm, which was the lowest of seven sent to the council. The pipe is of a Birmingham make.

City Manager Ernest Rolison recommended acceptance of the bid, which was then approved upon motion of Councilman George McNulty, seconded by Councilman Robert Jones.

Request for water service from Redwood City for the White Oaks tract just over the northern city limits in San Carlos was made to the council last night by Abner Sholl, agent, on behalf of the Consolidated Development Company.

Sholl said that Redwood City was in a position to supply a better quality of water at a cheaper price than can be had from present well sources. About 60 consumers are now residing in the White Oaks tract. The agent notified the council that a bond will be posted guaranteeing the monthly bills.

Upon motion of Councilman Robert Jones, seconded by Councilman James Eva, the council referred the matter to City Manager Ernest Rolison for a report in two weeks.

FIRE WARDEN APPOINTMENT WINS DELAY

Werder Recommended For Post By New Commission

Two more weeks' delay in the appointment of a county fire warden were taken Monday by the board of supervisors after receiving a recommendation from the county fire commission that Warden Bert Werder be re-appointed.

The commission, headed by Fire Chief Thomas Cuff of Menlo Park, recommended Werder's retention after conferring with the candidates, who included "Al" Russell and Ward Tucker.

Fire Chief Hugh Morris of San Mateo, who was elected secretary, said that Werder's 14 years with the county service had given him a thorough knowledge of fire problems.

Supervisor Walter High, Burlingame, asked the postponement, and was joined by Supervisor Albert Witt, Colma.

Senators' Apologies Take Whack at Huey

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 7 (AP)—Two state senators telegraphed apologies to President Roosevelt today for the action of the state house of representatives in inviting Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana, the "greatest demagogue of all time" to address the house today. The message was signed by Senators William A. Hart and H. Dixon Smith.

Senate Democrats Hit F. R. Power In Relief Bill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP) — Democrats in the senate appropriations committee have agreed on amendments striking out entire sections of the administration's $4,880,000,000 work relief bill which would have granted unlimited powers to President Roosevelt in administering the fund.

The Democratic members are not bound to support the changes before the full committee, called to meet tomorrow to pass on the bill, but prediction was made that the changes would be agreed to since they are also largely approved by the Republican members.

One section the committee agreed to eliminate would authorize the president to make loans or payments to "needy individuals to make grants, loans, or contracts without restrictions and to acquire by purchase or the power of eminent domain, and properly improve it and dispose of it in any manner he saw fit."

The other section authorized the president "to consolidate, redistribute, abolish or transfer the functions and property of any emergency governmental agency, delegate the powers conferred upon him to any governmnt agency, and establish and prescribe the duties and functions of government agencies."

TREASURES HOUSED

NANKING (AP)—A museum will be built here to house a portion of the treasures of the Forbidden City in Peiping. The exhibits were moved from the former capital when the Japanese army approached the city in 1933 and since then have been stored in Shanghai.

OLD AGE GETS 'BREAK'

PEIPING (AP)—Long revered in China but neglected since the revolution, old age is regaining some of its former prestige here as the result of efforts of city officials to revive the teachings of Confucius.

PHONE PROBE APPROVED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7 (AP) — The Wheeler resolution proposing a broad investigation by the federal communications commission of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and its subsidiaries was approved today by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

ARIZONA HITS AT ALIENS

PHOENIX, Feb. 7 (AP) — Alien Japanese would practically be prohibited from occupying, cultivating or acquiring land in Arizona under a measure introduced today into the Arizona Legislature.

Karpis Reported Seen In Vicinity of Auburn

AUBURN, Feb. 7 (AP) — Armed guards were ordered for the plant of the Virginia Draping Company, six miles from here, after an investigation indicated that Alvin Karpis had been seen in the vicinity last Saturday. Pictures of the gang leader were identified by David Barrett, a miner; Lloyd Geraldson, a dredge employe, and a carpenter named Hathaway, who said they saw Karpis driving a car at the week-end.

SERA Workers End School Survey Here

An SERA project which has as its object the inspection of all school buildings in the state has been completed in Redwood City and in San Mateo, and will contiue in other schools of the county, School Superintendent Pansy Jewett Abbott said today.

Questionaires relating to physical condition of the schools are being completed by the workers on the project. When they are all gathered together, Vierling Kersey, state uperintendent of public instruction expects to present the data to the federal government asking for funds to make changes or repairs needed in the schools.

Health Board Needs Plumber, Board Told

Two protests on the failure to appoint a plumber on the San Mateo County Board of Health were entered Monday with the board of supervisors by the San Mateo County Organized Labor Advisory Body and the United Association of Journeymen Plumbers and Steam Fitters.

William P. Dessert signed the protest on behalf of the latter group and Ruth M. Bradley on behalf of the former. The matter was referred to Executive Walter Kellogg.

COUNTY RESIDENT 73 YEARS PASSES

John Curran, 95, Had Been Injured in Fall At Home Here

Complications resulting from a fall at his home last Thursday were believed responsible for the death on Monday of John Curran, 95, retired rancher who was living at 225 Standish street in Redwood City.

Mr. Curran, who had lived in this county for the past 73 years where he had operated ranches near Woodside, Mayfield and Redwood City, slipped and fell at his home as he was going to the back porch for wood. His hip was fractured. He was removed to a San Mateo hospital, but succumbed to his injuries and other complications, hospital attendants reported.

Mr. Curran, who had become well-known throughout the county, was for several years foreman of the grand jury here.

Survivors of Mr. Curran, who was a native of County Wicklow, Ireland, are his widow, Lucy, and six sons, Cuthbert, Thomas F., William B., Charles R., Clarence V., and Eugene G. Curran.

He was the father of the late Mrs. Isabel M. Burke, wife of Police Chief Thomas Burke of San Mateo.

Four grandchildren, Mrs. Sam Winklebleck, James Curran, William and Norman Burke, and two great grandchildren also survive.

Printing Must Pass Through Purchaser

All San Mateo county printing work must pass through the hands of Purchasing Agent Stanley Kelly hereafter, the board of supervisors determined Monday. The printing contracts must have the approval of County Executive Walter Kellogg.

The purchasing agent will be empowered to fix rules and regulations for the handling of the printing and the prices to be paid.

Petitions Against Liquor Bill Out At Menlo Park

Petitions protesting the Gilmore bill which would remove the mile and a half restriction on the sale of liquor in the vicinity of Stanford University were printed today and have been sent to Menlo Park, Palo Alto, Mayfield and the Stanford campus for circulation.

The petitions were prepared by the Stanford Park Improvement Association of Menlo Park.

Citing as grounds that sale of liquor within one and a half miles of Stanford would be detrimental to the community and would disturb the peace of Menlo Park residents, the petitions will probably be circulated by churches in the districts, organizations within the church and individuals, it is expected.

Menlo Park liquor dealers sometime ago indicated that if such petitions were circulated they also would issue petitions in favor of the bill.

Lathes at Sequoia To Be Reconditioned

Five projects under approval of SERA were submitted today to the San Mateo County Emergency Relief Administration for action. They include $365.20 for reconditioning the lathes and shapers at the Sequoia high school and $82 for improvements in the Redwood City Public Library.

Postoffice Building Start Is Uncertain

While a definite date for the start of work on Redwood City's new postoffice will not be set until next week, C. F. Parker, member of the K. E. Parker Co. building firm, said today that ground would undoubtedly be broken for the building within a month.

Then it will take between four and five months to build the $40,000 structure, it is expected. Local men will be used on the job almost exclusively, according to the contractor. How many men will be used has not as yet been determined, he said.

Safeway Stores Push Campaign On Cheese Sales

"When children can't be coaxed to drink milk, let them eat more cheese. . . ."

This sage bit of medical advice, based on the fact that cheese has the same vital food values as milk, is particularly timely here in connection with the Producer-Consumer Cheese Campaign now being conducted by Safeway Stores.

The numerous varieties available make it easy for parents to select a tempting array for their youngsters.

While the grocery company has conducted many previous merchandising campaigns to help producers of other farm products, this is the first time in which cheese has been chosen.

Local dairymen are said to be enthusiastic over the possibilities of the drive, hoping that it will pave the way for greatly increased consumption of cheese. They point to the fact that the average American consumes only 4½ pounds of cheese, while the per capita consumption in England is twice that amount and other countries reaches five times the figure.

The campaign is scheduled from February 11th to 16th, inclusive, in all Safeway, Piggly Wiggly and MacMarr stores.

Miss Condie Given Handling of Estate

Miss Jessie Condie was named administratrix of the estate of the late William Turnbull when her petition for probate of the will and letters testamentary was heard by Superior Judge Caminetti in court here yesterday.

The petition for probate of the will was continued until March 4.

A contest over Miss Condie's inheritance, valued at approximately $70,000, developed last week when a niece, Mrs. Helen Gillespie, filed notice of intention to attempt to break the will of Turnbull which eliminated most of his relatives from a share of the estate.

Annual Scout Solicitation Opens Feb. 11

$2,000 Set As Local Fund Goal; Reynard Heads Campaign

With Redwood City's quota fixed at $2000, the annual Boy Scout campaign for funds to carry on the work of the organization during the coming year will begin February 11 and extend to February 25, it was announced today.

Duncan Reynard will handle the campaign locally. He will have the assistance of a large group of citizens interested in Scouting.

All money raised locally will be spent in the area which includes Atherton, Menlo Park, Woodside, East Palo Alto and Los Lomitas.

Patrick Rorke, well-known peninsulan, heads the county-wide campaign committee, other members of which are J. E. Morrish, Max Leonard, Howard King, Edward T. Harrison, J. D. Hedge, Roy Pryor, I. Karmel, Henry C. Maier, John Gill, A. S. Liguori, Fred Talbot and Howard G. Park.

"I am confident that Redwood City will continue its support of this movement which means so much in the lives of the boys," Reynard declared today. "We have adopted quite an ambitious program for 1935. The record of the local council has been of a noteworthy character. It has been recognized by the national organization as one of the outstanding councils in the country. We have shown an increase of 13 per cent in membership over last year."

The Sea Scout regatta in Redwood City, which won national commendation last year, will be again repeated here on a larger scale, over Labor Day, Reynard said.

Fully 500 Sea Scouts representing every council in California will encamp for three days in Redwood City Harbor, he announces.

The 25th anniversary of scouting will be celebrated over the nation beginning on February 8 and continuing to February 14.

The Scout movement was launched on February 8, 1910, in Washington, D. C., and now has 1,323,819 members engaged in its various activities.

Auto Wrecking Yard Planned for Maple

Joseph Wasserman, 160 Maple street, and Herbert Kertz, Palo Alto, last night requested a permit of the city council to operate an auto wrecking yard on the former Cullen Company property on Maple street.

They posted $100 with the council for the license, but will ask that it be pro-rated for the remaining six months of the year and a refund be given July 1.

Public hearing will be held by the council on February 18.

PLAYGROUND FACILITIES READY SOON

Recreational equipment costing $250 is being installed in the small Sequoia Park and in Mezes Plaza, the city council was informed last night by City Manager Ernest Rolison and City Engineer Charles Dimmitt, and attention is next to be turned to the new Horace Hawes Park needs.

Councilman James Eva asked about the prospects of securing a soft-ball diamond in Hawes Park, and was informed by Dimmitt that plans were already under consideration.

Councilman Evans Fletcher suggested to the council that an entrance be secured to the park from Oak street, which was submitted to the city officials to work out, if possible.

Swings, benches and sandboxes are being installed in the Sequoia Park on El Camino Real, and the same equipment, plus horizontal ladders and a giant stride ladder, is being installed in Mezes Plaza.

With the use of SERA labor and discarded water mains, the $250, which was provided in the 1934-35 budget, is being stretched to cover equipment which normally would be more costlier, Dimmitt said.

Former Fireman Here Succumbs; Rites Tomorrow

Private funeral services for Henry Mourot, 63, a native of Redwood City who died Monday night in San Francisco, will be held tomorrow from the Weiboldt parlors in the bay city.

Mourot, a former member of the local fire department and at one time a member of the city council, operated a transfer business here for a number of years.

Two Badly Hurt As Hit-Runner Crashes Auto

Struck by a hit-run motorist who spun their car around three times and left it a flaming wreckage, two men were seriously injured at 8 o'clock last night on the Bayshore highway near San Mateo.

The injured, who were removed to the Mills Memorial Hospital, are Harry Smith, 32, and Hector Tommasini, 33, both of 1835 Vallejo street, San Francisco.

Smith, wnose condition was reported as critical, suffered a fractured skull, broken left hand and three fractured ribs. His companion received a broken left leg and possible internal injuries.

The car which struck them was a red coupe, they told Capt. Paul Perussina of the State Highway Patrol, who arrived at the scene of the accident a few minutes after it happened. He with the aid of motorists pulled the two men from their flaming machine. He then called the San Mateo police and fire departments, the latter extinguishing the blaze in the car.

Traffic was tied up for some time by the accident, the traffic captain reported.

Earlier in the evening Perussina, accompanied by Traffic Patrolmen Frank Chevalier and Walter Sequeira, had arrested Jacque Roth, 30, of San Francisco, who was driving on the wrong side of the road, according to the officers. He was booked at the county jail on a charge of reckless driving and will be given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Gus Risso Thursday morning.

BEAUTIFYING OF BAYSHORE URGED HERE

Fletcher Asks Trees Along Highway At Entrance

Need of beautifying Redwood City's entrances on the Bayshore highway by the planting of trees and shrubbery was pointed out to the city council last night by Councilman Evans Fletcher.

The state, it was pointed out, has been doing some experimental work along the Bayshore highway and its assistance will be sought by City Manager Ernest Rolison and City Engineer Charles Dimmitt.

Fletcher suggested that the matter be called to the attention of the planning commission He also said that other portions of the city in need of beautification should be given early attention.

Councilman James Eva suggested a tree planting program for streets now barren in order to beautify the city and make it more attractive from the residential standpoint.

8,715 Names Taken Off Registration Roll

San Mateo county's registration of voters was reduced by 8,715 today as a corps of workers in County Clerk E. B. Hinman's office completed purging of the rolls.

Failure to vote at either the primary or general election last year cost this number of people their registration. This leaves the total county registration at 38,137.

Of this total, 35,945 voted for governor at the general election, Hinman revealed.

Constables to Get Pay, Says Report

Part of San Mateo county's salary muddle will be straightened out next Monday at the board of supervisors meeting, it was indicated today following a reported "star session" at which supervisors indicated they would pass an ordinance providing for seven constables in the county, instead of five as at first planned.

Others of the county employes who went without salaries February 1—health director, two meat inspectors and case worker at the Community Hospital — were still unpaid today.

Through a new ruling of the supervisors that they cannot consider any matters they did not know about on the Thursday before meeting, the board was unable to act on the salary matter Monday.

It was also reported the board planned to hold a caucus tomorrow to discuss appointment of a fire warden.

Historical Society Will Meet Friday

Roy W. Cloud, author of a county history, will be guest speaker.

Donald C. Brooks, chairman pro tem and Roscoe D. Wyatt, secretary pro tem, invite persons interested in this activity.
